Looking to build on the positives

IT'S almost a year since I joined Port Vale Football Club and we have certainly witnessed a heady cocktail of thrills, passion and goals, mixed with a few lows and complemented by some special moments.

I have been hugely impressed by the attitude and application of the squad throughout the season and the improvement of the team has been there for everyone to see. We will be looking to build on the positives from this season and take them forward into the new campaign.

I am passionate about this club succeeding, both on and off the pitch. Finances are tight at Vale Park and across football in general, making our season ticket revenue all the more important as we try to build for a successful future. The 2010-11 season will be an exciting time for everybody associated with Port Vale Football Club and we need the support of our fans to take on that change.

Good home form will be absolutely critical to our success and that's something our fans can influence by buying a season ticket and helping to continue the excellent home support we have seen since I joined the club.

You can play a part in our future. Keep the faith.

Watch the Vale for just over a tenner a game

BUY your season ticket before the end of May and you can watch the Vale's second season under Micky Adams for the brilliant price of £249 – that's just over a tenner a game.

And those renewing in April or May will be given a further discount of £10 as a thank you for their loyalty. It all adds up to 10 FREE games compared with paying match-day prices.

The offer is for all areas of the ground – including the Railway Stand, the Bycars End

Stand and the The Sentinel Family Stand – except the Lorne Street Stand where there is a £20 premium on all categories of season tickets.

For current season ticket holders to secure their existing seat they must renew before the end of May or pay a £100 non-refundable deposit on a June or July purchase.

There are great reductions for 9-18 year olds who can buy a season ticket for as little as £79 – £3.43 a game. And under nines are again FREE.

All the above amounts to a tremendous incentive to buy season tickets before the end of May – making professional football affordable for all sections of the community in North Staffordshire and South Cheshire.
